Effective Praying

Lesson for February 12, 1956

WHEN most people think of prayer they think of only one although there are several. word "prayer" suggests ask- for something; though it to suggest thankfulness, ession of sin, aspiration, trust. leaving all these other kinds prayer out of account, what a derful thing prayer is! If I go to a mil- naire once a and ask him anything I ted; or if I d have an in- iew with the famous per- in the world the privilege aking one fa- —how dizzy I Dr. Foreman ld be at the pleasure of the pect! Yet God has more treas- than a millionaire, and the e of the most renowned men othing compared to his glory. such a God to whom I can my desires and requests, ev- day, every night of the year. only because prayer is so that we take it for granted fail to appreciate it. We might e the opportunity more if we to pay well for it.

Price of Prayer

a way, prayer does have a e. That is to say, if prayer o be effective, certain condi- have to be met. Jesus told stories which bring out what e conditions are. One is the of two men who went into same temple to pray. One was old hand at it,—if there was a ying class" of Jews (corre- ding to a working class, or a essional class) in those days, was a prominent member of it. other man had perhaps very tom prayed. The first man was regular contributor to his rch; the other man—if he was the average in his profession ldom darkened the door of a e of worship. But in Jesus' y these two men found them- es side by side in the same ple, and only one was "justi- ," that is to say, only one got orable attention from God. And , one was the man who had ing to say but "God, be merci- to me a sinner." To ask God bbia and for that, as if we de- red it, as if it were our right demand gifts from God,—this o way to pray. Effective pray- egins with confession and re- ance, not with demands.

s to Be Proud

et us make a short list of some rences between wrong prayer right prayer. Wrong prayer ally talking to oneself, or talk- so as to be overheard by some we want to impress. Right yer is addressed to God alone. ng prayer is proud; right yer is humble. Wrong prayer s God to support the pride of prayer. Right prayer casts e away and comes to God out a claim. Jesus is care- not to say that God is anything like that judge. What he does m is that if even a bad char- r like that judge can be moved do the right thing by a persis- woman, surely God our Fa- in heaven, who is neither lazy stubborn nor ill-willed, will m to persistent prayer. We ld be careful not to read into parable more than Jesus said. re is no promise here that God nts the number of times we y for a thing, and that if we f pray enough times he will be s to answer. There is no guar- ee that God will answer any yer we can think of if we say ften enough. What Jesus prom- s is that God will bring justice last . . . . if we keep on want- it.

Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

From the angle of convenience, economy and nutrition, dried fruits stand with the first. They are a good source of iron; apricots, peaches currants, dates, figs, and prunes, all vie with raisins in this respect.

Spiced Fruit Bread

3 cups sifted flour
4 1-2 teaspoon baking powder
1 1-2 teaspoons salt
1-2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon mace
1-2 teaspoon ground cloves
1-2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1-2 cups currants
2 eggs well beaten
1 cup milk
1-4 cup melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar, mace, cloves and nutmeg. Stir in currants. Combine eggs, milk, and shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring until just mixed. Put into a greased, floured, 9"x5"x3" pan. Bake in an oven 350 degrees for 1 1-4 hours.

Raisin Dumplings

1 cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tbalespoon shortening
1-2 cup seedless raisins
3-4 cup dry bread crumbs
1 well beaten egg
3-4 cup milk
2 teaspoons grated onion

Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add raisins and bread crufbs. Combine egg, milk, and onion.. Stir into raisin mixture. Mix just enough to moisten. Drop by teaspoons into boiling water in which chicken has been boiled. Cover tightly and steam 20 minutes. Serve with broiled chicken.

Apricot Pudding

1-2 cup butter
2 cups dried apricots
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
2 cups dry bread crumbs
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1-2 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tblespoon grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon almond extract
1-2 cup evaporated milk

Chop the apricots fine. Cream butter until smooth and soft. Add sugar gradually, beat until light and fluffy. Separate eggs and drop unbeaten egg yolks into the batter one at the time beating well after each addition. Stir in crumbs, cinnamon, and soda, then add lemon juice, rind, almond extract, milk and fold very gently into the batter. Spoon into a 1 1-2 quart greased mold. Cover tightly and place on a rack in a large kettle. Pour in enough boiling water to measure 2 inches. Cover and let pudding steam for two hours. Unmold on serving dish. cut in thin slices and serve with hard sauce or whipped cream.

Fruit Compote

2 cups prunes
1 cup dried apricots
1-2 cup seedless raisins
1-4 teaspoon salt
1-2 cup crushed pineapple
1-4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1-8 teaspoon cinnamon.

Combine prunes, apricots and raisins. Cover with water. Add salt. Cover and cook until prunes are tender, about 30 minutes.

Stir as little as possible so fruit will stay whole. Art. pineapple, sugar, lemon juice, and cinnamon. Cook 5 minutes longer. Leave covered while cooking. Serve as dessert or as a breakfast fruit.
